Regis College

Weston, Massachusetts

• This is neither the end . . . nor is it the beginning. It is but a pause as the past comes back in a flood of hopes and dreams and memories. We must stand alone and attempt to evaluate . . . for it is also a time of assessment . . . but we are too close to our years at Regis . . . we are alone with thoughts of the past, hopes for the present and dreams of the future . . . our only expression is in •

• We have seen the phases of Regis life . . . there is much left unsaid.

The importance of each individual can not be portrayed. Each accomplishment is important, each adds to the growth of the whole.

We have seen the faces of Regis . . . we cannot see the hearts.

It is on these hearts that the value of each is written. We can only project the face and the name.

The worth of the member is known to the family, and shall add to its justified pride •

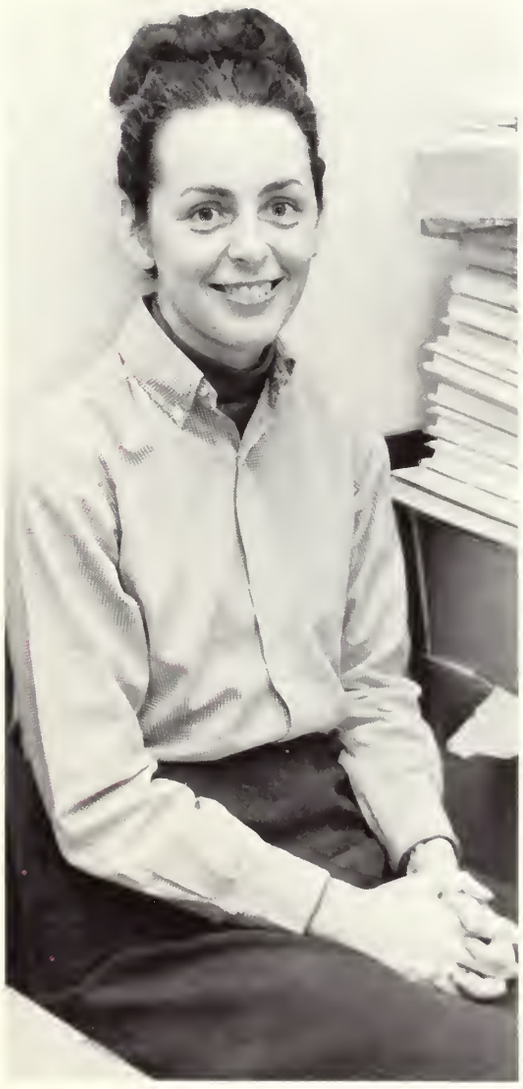
VOGUE



• In our attempt to present a comprehensive reflection of our four years at Regis, we hope that the story contained in these pages will assist you now and in the years to come to fully appreciate what Regis is to you.

Thanks are due to the Editorial Board: Helene Zelich, Suzanne Curtin, Mary Ford, and Elizabeth Walsh, and their staffs, for their talent and inspiration; to Miss Carole Riordan, moderator, for her infinite patience and understanding; to Mr. Jerome Berman and Mr. Alvin Weiner of Alfred Brown Studios; and to Mr. Roswell Farnham of Wm. J. Keller Inc.

Above all, we express our gratitude to the Regis family . . . administration, faculty, students, and staff, for providing us with these impressions of Via, Veritas, Vita •

The art of being a non-conformist or why many perceptive yearbook staffs prefer a very distinguished publishing house

Retaining one's individuality is not easy in these days of mass production and standardization. This is especially true of yearbook publishing, in which mass production methods have the tendency to force one to buy just what the other fellow buys.

Making of soap or soup or salad dressing by mass methods is one thing. But it is quite another to attempt to produce a creative yearbook by trying to squeeze it into some pre-conceived mold. It just can't be done that way.

The Wm. J. Keller firm brings together highly trained craftsmen, the very finest papers and ink of superlative quality. Add to these a unique service plan built around the individual school, and, finally, production by the Velvatone process, which Keller perfected especially for the printing of yearbooks, and you have a truly distinguished performance. And a yearbook with singular character and individuality . . . we call it "THE LOOK OF THE BOOK."

The yearbook you are presently leafing through is the product of the Keller custom program. If you would care to see other examples of "THE LOOK OF THE BOOK" as produced by Wm. J. Keller, get in touch with us now.
